

Professional Development titles

Available as eBooks for 99p from 1st–31st July 2026

Clockwork Classrooms*, by Carmel Bones

Rooted in thirty years of classroom experience, this book is a treasury of easy-to-implement ideas which lead to smooth, running classroom experiences for you and your students.

Engelmann's Direct Instruction in Action*, by Tom Needham

This new title provides a thorough explanation of Siegfried Engelmann's Direct Instruction teaching model, alongside plenty of examples of how its ideas can be applied to the everyday classroom.

How I Wish I'd Taught Writing*, by Tim Mills and Clare Sealy

This new title dispels the myths of teaching writing to establish a clear, research-led and unambiguous companion to the DfE Writing Framework for primary schools.

Connected*, by Rachel Johnson

Perfect for in-classroom discussion, this new title breaks down how we can be the best version of ourselves as individuals whilst also working collectively to be better together.

The Power of Governance*, by Emma Knights

Building on her learnings as Chief Executive of the National Governance Association, author Emma Knights puts a microscope on governance: examining what good governance looks like and how far it has been achieved.

Offer available on Amazon eBooks only.

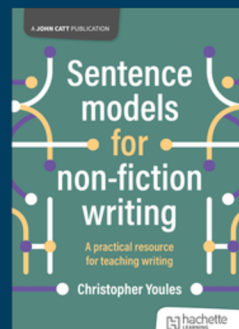

Professional Development titles

Available as eBooks for 99p from 1st–31st July 2026

Teach Like Your Heart is on Fire*, by Christian Mba

Packed with practical strategies and reflective questions inspired by educational research and experience in real classrooms, this new title will reignite your teaching purpose.

Teacher Hacks: English*, by Haili Hughes and Stuart Pryke

Your new go-to guide for fostering students' passion for English, packed with scenarios, practical examples and evidence-informed practices.

The Functionally Fluent Teacher*, by Steve Willshaw

This book combines real-world insights, practical classroom scenarios and case studies to bring the Functional Fluency model to life, and a practical toolkit to help educators use their limited time and energy more effectively.

Secondary Religious Education in Action*, by Joe Kinnaird

This book brings together the latest research and practical strategies to present a vision of what it means for students to truly engage with religious education.

Ready to Teach: An Inspector Calls*, by Haili Hughes and Miriam Hussain

Take the guesswork out of your teaching with this perfect companion to the study of the 20th century classic play. Plan and deliver well-structured lessons that will develop your students' scholarship in and passion for English.

Offer available on Amazon eBooks only.

Professional Development titles

Available as eBooks for 99p from 1st–31st July 2026

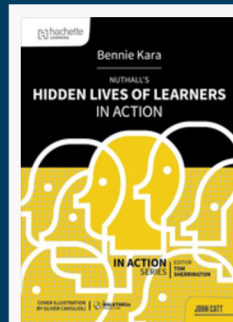

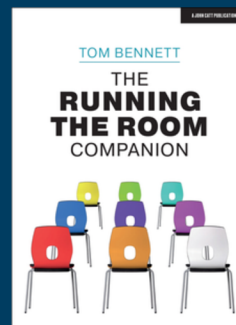

International School Leaders' Guide to AI, by Rita Bateson

Practical and frequently inspiring, this book is a must-have for any teacher wanting to use, integrate, or communicate about the use of AI in schools, while ensuring students have the agency to think critically.

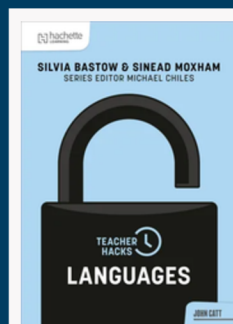

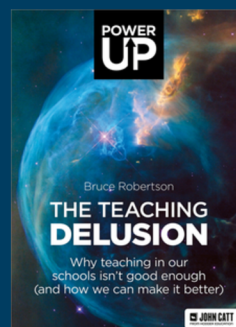

Feedback Resource Guide, by Kate Jones

This practical guide has over fifty evidence-informed, tried-and-tested classroom resources and strategies to help you ensure that your feedback is effective and efficient.

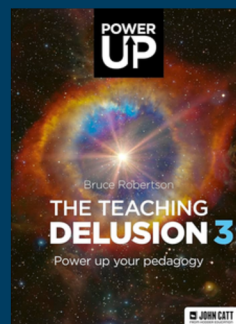

Nuthall's Hidden Lives of Learners in Action, by Bennie Kara

Drawing on Professor Emeritus Graham Nuthall's extensive research, this book explores how to make learning activities and feedback impactful, and clears up misconceptions about individualised instruction practices.

Teacher Hacks: Languages, by Silvia Bastow and Sinead Moxham

This textbook is packed with practical strategies and teaching hacks to empower modern language teachers at every stage of their career.

Cabinet of Curiosity, by James Handscombe

Drawing on real classroom experience, author James Handscombe offers a practical and thought-provoking guide to putting curiosity at the heart of your teaching.

Offer available on Amazon eBooks only.